Commencement, 1946

With thoughts of the coming graduation gradually becoming uppermost in our minds, let's look back on the first peacetime commencement that Gould has seen in many years.

Class Day, Saturday afternoon, June eighth, marked the beginning of the Commencement Weekend. The program, originally scheduled to be held outside in front of the William Bingham Gymnasium, was forced indoors by a dismal rain. However, the following program was successfully given:

Processional

Address to Undergraduates

Francis H. Bean

Clarinet Solo—Indian Love Call Friml Sherman Cole

Gifts to Girls Daniel R. Bennett Robert F. Lord Horace R. Sturgis

Gifts to Boys Ruth E. Ault Judith Cole Jean H. Murphy

When Old Friends Meet Again
Dexter Stowell, Theodore Emery, Jr.
Richard Sprague, Francis Bean

Class Will Marie E. White

Violin Solo—Without A Song Youmans Ruth E. Ault

Presentation of Class Gift Gordon B. Lawry

Singing of Class Ode Class of 1946 Words by Priscilla Goggin

Recessional

The baseball game with members of the alumni which was scheduled for the afternoon was cancelled because of the rain. The Senior Reception was held that evening in the gymnasium, the Edward Little Varsiteers furnishing the music.

Sunday afternoon the customary Baccalaureate Service was held in the Congregational Church: the Commencement sermon was given by the Reverend Cornelius E. Clark of Portland. After the service, tea was served for alumni, parents, and seniors at the Headmaster's Home. In the evening a concert was given in the gymnasium by the following senior members of the William Rogers Chapman Club: Carolyn L. Van Dusen, Priscilla Goggin, Theodore P. Emery, Jr., Marie E. White, Donald E. Brooks, and Judith Cole.

The climax of the eventful weekend came on Monday morning, as the seventy-six serious seniors marched into the William Bingham Gymnasium to the stirring War March of the Priests by Mendelssohn for the important exercises which were to follow.

The program was turned over to the seniors themselves, under the chairmanship of Margery A. Howard, and the Invocation was delivered by Nellie Lapham.

Marilyn B. Noyes then delivered the Salutatory essay on the Subject of Appreciation of Art, Literature, Music, and Nature. This was followed by a musical number, Music, by Frances Kessler, sung by the Girl's Glee Club.

The next Honor Essay, Science in the High School Curriculum, was delivered by Theodore P. Emery, Jr. The Boys' Glee Club then sang So We'll Go No More A-Roving by Thomas.

The next essay, an Honor Essay on Democracy in Education, was delivered by Priscilla C. Ring. After this the Varsity Glee Club sang Ode to America by Noble Cain.

Then Dexter M. Stowell gave the Valedictory Essay on Consumer Education. This was followed by a selection by the orchestra, Hungarian Comedy Overture by Keler Bela.

Headmaster Ireland then awarded the diplomas and acknowledged the gifts of approximately $800 by Ralph Gould for a Gould Music Fund, and a drinking fountain by the Class of 1946 which is to be installed on the Athletic Field.

After the Benediction by Collen F. Bennett, the new alumni went to the Annual Alumni Dinner at Gehring Hall. There Lt. Edmond J. Vachon was speaker; Ilene Goodrich, a Gould alumna, and the Male Quartet sang.

As the Class of 1946 slowly realized that their years at Gould were over and that the weekend, long-awaited, had come and gone, each one knew that happy memories would remain forever in his mind.

With the Juniors

One bright and sunny day the juniors started out on their now famous trip.

Thru the medium of a time machine, invented by Billy O'Brien, they turned back two complete centuries, finding Indians roaming our fair lands. They started with several cars: Leland Brown's, Eddie Swain's, Buddy Foster's, Mark Rines', Lee Dymont's, and last, but not least, the Gould Academy school bus. Lyn Vinton and Bert Fernald followed on a bicycle built for two. Jumping from bump to bump, rut to rut, they soon arrived at - - you guessed it! - - Poland Corner!

Within a week each person had found some way to help educate the local natives, bringing into their dark lives a new and more brilliant light.

Sally Adams, Gertrude Penner, and Ruthie Judkins soon taught the natives to make delicious sandwiches. Some of them became so enterprising that soon they set up a "Snack Bar" in the chief's tepee.

Dick Bayles found an old piece of canvas somewhere in the bus (surprising what one finds in that bus!) and made a boat. Most of his time was spent demonstrating sailing technique. He named it "Beautiful Spoon," or as the Indians say, "He-a-heap-huge-deal."

Norma Bean and Neva Mundt, feeling that the Indians should learn the three R's (we are, you are, and they will be), started giving out homework and instructions on how to learn it. Since these instructions were confidential, we are unable to tell you about them here.

Dave Bennett and Ted Young started to teach the natives to play ping-pong, but the venture was rather unsuccessful since they spent most of the time playing themselves on their makeshift table.

Kathleen Brooks started a travelling library, where she spent most of her time reading books to report on when she returned to Gould. The last we heard, she was five ahead.

Jimmy Browne taught the natives to appreciate good jokes. We met him one day, and seeing that his head was bandaged and he had lost a few teeth, we asked him what happened. He explained, "I compared the chief's wife with two-thirds of a pun."

Mike Brown soon established an enterprising gas station that sold only water and free air. For a while he sold oats and hay, but these commodities were above ceiling, and the horses couldn't reach that high.

Connie Coolidge and Barbara Learned established a dancing school, with everything from swing to sway. The natives picked this up very quickly, and still retain a bit of this art, although, as is usually the case, the dances have changed over a period of years.

Martha Crocker and Teddy Mayer taught the natives room improvement. Many of their tepees were decorated with Teddy's artistic signs, helped along by Martha's humble suggestions. As a side line they gave lectures on the book "Getting the Most Out of Life" or "Living Together Thru War and Peace."

Barbara Crockett, better known as "Biff," taught the Indians first-aid and ju-jitsu. Needless to say, with Herbie Hunt coaching skiing there was no need of the first aid. Nevertheless the natives got plenty of practice in the ju-jitsu when the bears got too close to camp. As for Herbie, his skiing lessons were so successful that he spent all his time waxing the practice slope so the skis would slide down easily.

Bob Croteau soon became a famous coach for all sports, teaching the natives to be heap big, heap healthy, and heap muscular.

Wilma Croteau explained for the natives the wolf vault, using a tree stump as apparatus. The natives already knew how to use a spring board, since they were fond of swimming, which was taught by Carol Swan. Carol also taught the squaws to play softball, and the chief's wife soon became an expert pitcher.

Ann Cummings became the official dress-maker, teaching them new styles of deerskin clothes. She started, of course, the white stag ski-jackets.

Gloria Cutting, knowing that she must not give up her beloved correctives, taught the Indians to correct their posture.

Barb Dougherty made sure that the natives were punctual.

Lee Dyment was not seen for sometime since he was grieving over the loss of his trombone, which had been used one dark night to syphon gas.

Dave Farrington hired the Indians to prospect for gold in order that he might continue to fill teeth with nothing but the best.

Bert Fernald was a true politician: after making speeches and kissing babies, he was elected Chief Census-Taker.

Buddy Foster had the natives driving his car so well they soon had licenses.

Jim Gordon taught the natives to play the bass viol.

Bob Grover and Erland Scribner tried to teach the Indians how to hunt, but ended up by learning themselves.

Quentin Hall soon had the natives trained to get up at 4:00 A.M. every morning when he blew reveille.

Jessie Jones and Barbara Storey, deciding to put their business arithmetic to a practical use, began to teach the natives to keep a record of their spare cash—and trips uptown.

Marvin Kendall and Larry Kimball taught the Indians to hike long distances so they would be prepared when the bus broke down.

Jerry Linnell and Grace Lenfest, like ham and eggs, were always seen together, giving clarinet lessons, and serving tea. Frankie McRae started a dramatic club, which was very successful. Pocahontas and John Smith ran for four hundred nights.

Betty McAllister and Irving McAllister wrote a history of the McAllister family. Later they found Indians by that name and compared their findings.

Bob Medeiros gave the Indians a wide vocabulary. Also he taught them to recognize the nationality of such names as Hercovitchsky, Snapplewhoppi, and Shad-of.

Dick Melville set up the rules of parliamentary procedure. This should not be confused with the order held at junior class meetings.

Carolyn Noyes thought that what the natives needed most was clear thinking; they learned from her how to type and study history at the same time.

Billy O'Brien freely gave his time to inventing monograms for different individuals, with his own as a shining example.

Don Powers, the last time he was seen, with a tomahawk, was chasing an Indian who tried to sell him some elevator shoes.

Mark Rines explained to the Indians the game of "Capture the Flag" and also how to line a football field. The latter came in very handy when Paul Wight started coaching football. The two of them did well in teaching football, along with Bob Croteau.

Barbara Spooner taught the natives the song "Chloe". Well, it was almost like "Chloe", only the girls name was Eunice in the first verse, and Marion in the second.

Eddie Swain soon had the natives proficient in making weather reports. No one could understand them, though, because for some queer reason or other they came out in French.

Harry Swan made weight-lifting and the shot-put popular. Some of them learned well, which was unfortunate for the squaws. In vain Harry attempted to make them use tree stumps, but they still preferred the squaws.

Tim Terry showed the Indians how to be tenacious. This he did mostly by example, with only Bob Medeiros surpassing him.

Lyn Vinton taught the natives to recognize Evening in Paris when they smelled it.

Jessie Wermenchuk demonstrated to the natives how to cook their own breakfasts. We've missed a few natives suddenly; maybe Jessie had better do the cooking herself!

Louis Wood, deciding the Indians should learn basketball, conducted a practice one day. He ran into difficulty because the natives were all "hungry." He let them knock off for lunch and they never came back. Oh well, he still has his roommate for protection.

Carol Woodcock showed the natives table-setting technique. One day a native broke all the dishes, and Carol, faced with this problem, said, "Oh, just take some from the nearest tray stand."

All this was seen and reported as nearly correct as possible by me, as nearly as possible, that is.

With the Freshmen

Upon entering Gould, the class of '50 immediately got into the swing of school life. We are represented in dramatics, Science and Camera Clubs, debating, and all such activities.

In sports both boys and girls have done their part. Many of the boys and girls have gone out for football, basketball, and sports in which they were interested and for which they were best fitted. The girls have taken part in hockey, basketball, archery, and badminton.

Our class officers, chosen at the beginning of the year are:

President	Robert Hamilton
Vice President	Marlene Anderson

Secretary
Treasurer

Robert Hill
Alfred Norton

The class colors, blue and white, and the motto, "Give to the world the best you have, and the best will come back to you," were selected by the class.

And now to meet the class of '50 as individuals we have - -

MARLENE ANDERSON

"She's simply what's sweetest completest and neatest."

SHIRLEY ANDREWS

"She was a maiden bright and free."

JANE BEAN

"The ups and downs of life do not bother me."

LAURA BENNETT

"Her voice is soft and low
When she gets up to recite;
It sounds a great deal different, though,
When school lets out at night."

REX BENNETT

"Wise with a wisdom all his own."

DAVID BUCK

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men!"

ROBERTA BUCK

"Variety—the spice of life."

FANNIE BUCKMAN

"Little, but oh, my!"

MARGUERITE COTTON

"Heart on her lips, and soul within her eyes."

MARY CROSS

"You know I say just what I think, and nothing more or less."

DONALD CROTEAU

"I like work; it fascinates me; I can sit and look at it for hours."

PAUL CROTEAU

"A sound mind in a sound body."

ELIZABETH DAVIS

"A kind heart and a true heart."

PAULINE ENMAN

"Happy am I, from care I am free,
Why ain't they all contented, like me?"

ELAINE FULLER

"Tis the greatest of folly
Not to be jolly is what I think."

SHERMAN GREENLEAF

"We grant he has much wit,
Although he's very shy of using it."

STANLEY GROVER

"Thought is deeper than all speech."

ROBERT HAMILTON

"All history is but the lengthened shadow of great men."

RODNEY HARRINGTON

"When I feel like exercising, I just lie down until the feeling goes away."

JOHN HEAD

"Doing his part with a sturdy will, of the earnest work of life."

ROBERT HILL

"Always talk big, and you'll never be forgotten."

HELEN KEEHLWETTER

"With malice toward none, and charity for all."

RONALD KENDALL

"He had a head to contrive, a tongue to persuade, and a hand to execute any mischief."

RICHARD KLAIN

"The cautious seldom err."

DAVID KNEELAND

"All the great are dying, and I'm not feeling well."

ROLAND KNEELAND

"Tis not the size that makes the man, but the cranial vault and the contents of the brain."

EUNICE LANE

"Exquisitely neat - - with a manner that's sweet."

ANN LORD

"She's pretty and sweet, a graceful dancer that can't be beat."

RICHARD MARSHALL

"To those who know him best, a friend most true and hearty.
To those who know him least, a very quiet party."

MARION MASSE

"A friend to all who know her."

LILA MAXIM

"A rare compound of oddity, frolic, and fun."

PHYLLIS MERRILL

"It's wiser to be good than bad."

LINWOOD NEWELL

"The wisest are not always the noisiest."

ALFRED NORTON

"Others' learning — what a thing it is."

MERLE NOYES

"To err is rich, but to argue is divine."

CAROLINE OLSON

"With lots of pep and ability,
She's a favorite, don't you see?"

WARREN OLSON

"The pretty girls I meet are mine, (but) I do not wish to tell them so."

BURTON ROLFE

"Men of few words are the best men."

NANCY RUNYON

"I can resist everything but temptation."

CHARLOTTE SCRIBNER

"Man has his will, but woman has her way."

CHARLES SMITH

"The force of his own merit makes his way."

LUCIA SMITH

"Eat, drink, and be merry."

JOHN STEARNS

"A mind at peace with all the world."

SYLVIA STOWELL

"The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

BARBARA SWAN

"She is just the quiet kind whose value never varies."

GEORGIA TERRIBERRY

"She has vim and ready wit,
A load of pep, and plenty of grit."

SIMONE THOMAS

"For men may come and men may go, but I go on forever."

RICHARD VARNEY

"Slow and steady wins the race."

HOWARD WATERHOUSE

"Knowledge is power."

ANNE WATERMAN

"A maiden never bold,
Of spirit still and quiet."

DORIS WERMENCHUK

"The grandest thing on earth—CHARACTER."

OWEN WIGHT

"I shall make my own world."

In conclusion we would like to render the following information for the benefit of those few who may have felt that we, as green freshmen, have been a little pretentious - -

"All things we thought we knew
But now confess
The more we know, we know
We know the less!!"

MARILYN JUDKINS '50

GIRLS' DORM

Marian True Gehring Students' Home

Once again the time has come to take our annual trip through the girls' dormitory. As we walk up the steps we are greeted by our cheerful and busy house-mother, Mrs. Goggin.

After getting permission, we start up the stairs to second hall. The first room at the head of the stairs is occupied by Ruth Judkins and Mary Christie. As we near the door, it is opened and Ruthie, upon seeing us, says, "Hello, Cutie!" while Mary just laughs at the surprised expressions on our faces.

In the room around the corner we find Martha surrounded by her thousand or so records while Franny, is studying her French, bemoaning the little time she has to do all her work.

Next door we find Sally Adams and Lyn Vinton playing their favorite record and conversing in Latin. We hastily duck out of there for we don't even know how to say "hello" in that language.

In the next room, Nancy Barnard is reassuring her dubious roommate, Mydie Stickney, that she hasn't too much more to do on her sweater, and anyway she has more done than Martha has.

There is nobody home in the room across the hall, but as we continue down the hall, we find its occupants, Jody Perkins and Betsy Norton, down on their knees in front of Mary Plumer's and Betsy Grandin's door. Inquiring what they are up to now we are told they are returning a surprise visit they had received the previous night and the orange peels and corn flakes that were stuffed under their door are now being pushed under Plum's and Betsy's. Jody looks up long enough to offer us a raisin and then returns to her job.

Across the hall we find Connie Beeken giving Joyce Chipman "Advice to the Lovelorn" which is a daily occurrence and we decide not to disturb them, so we continue across the hall where the smell of Margie Davis' pine incense comes floating from the open transom. We open the door to find Margie rescuing one of her precious stamps from her roommate, Shirley Lang, who is about to put it on a letter she has just written.

Across the hall we find Jan Bowman busily sewing up the rips in her numerous bean bags, which are shaped like frogs, so the beans will not fall out. Her roommate, Bobbie Galbraith, is debating whether or not she will get a shock if she turns on the radio.

As we go into the next room we find "Biff" Crockett stretched out on her bed reading what must be a very funny book for she is convulsed with laughter. Upon seeing us she says, between laughs, "It's Jody's," and then explains, "Crook is washing again!"

Next door Jessie is practicing her solo for church on Sunday and she is trying, but not succeeding, to get her roommate, Barbara Storey, to come out of her comic book and listen to her.

At the end of the hall we see Van Durham carefully climbing over her roommate Frankie McRae, who is placidly reading a pocket book mystery, to hang up another one of her many "Joy" signs.

As we round the corner to go up the stairs we hear the strains of "Tea for Two", and we know immediately that Jerry Linnell and Grace Lenfest live in the room at the bottom of them. As we look in, we see Jerry raptly listening to the music while Grace is frantically searching for her hair drier which has been misplaced again.

As we climb the stairs to third, we are nearly knocked down by Jane Kanaly and Florence Pike as they run down the stairs to practice with armfuls of music. Next door we find Nancy Runyon reading up on her horoscope, while Ann Lord just smiles and hands us an apple.

In the next room Barbara Spooner has just checked off her list again and is asking her roommate Carol Woodcock, which one should be next. Carol comes out of her books long enough to say that one is all right for her.

We look in on Nancy Crane and Betty Barlow and find Nancy admiring Betty who is tying a pink ribbon around her hair. Before we can say "Hello", we are swept into the next room which houses the famous radio station G-A-I-N-O-R. Gainor McGorrill is playing some of her records while her roommate, Ann Parsons, is pretending to be the announcer.

Betty Backus and Debbie Duriage room across the hall. Betty is planning to carry on the support for Vermont next year, while Debbie prefers Massachusetts and things in twos, namely "Coal" and "Cole".

In the next room Peggy Barton is composing another one of her poems while Mary Scott is setting up fortifications in preparation for a forth-coming battle with Betty and Debbie.

Anne Libbey and Gloria Cutting are still, for once, trying vainly to figure out a way to get light after ten o'clock without using the hall plug. It seems that that is very costly both in money and restrictions.

Across the hall, Marion Masse and Eunice Lane are hanging out the window, and seem to be exceedingly interested in the kitchen. Anne Waterman and Elaine Fuller, from the two biggest towns in Maine(?), live next door.

At the end of the hall the sign on the door advertises "Giles and Davis". Hm-m-m-m-m! Could it be that we are in the wrong dorm??

The last room at the top of the stairs belongs to Teddy Mayer and Hezzie Crocker. Hezzie promises to be the first and finest woman basketball coach in the country, while Teddy enlivens our dorm meetings with her bright silk kimona.

As we go down the stairs with the conglomeration of music from second hall in our ears we wonder what it is that we missed that creates all the noise and excitement over here all the time. The dorm seemed quiet when we were there!

BETSY GRANDIN '47

Holden Hall

This year the same group of teachers had apartments in Holden Hall as last year, except Mr. Chivers, whom we all missed. Keeping the dorm under control, and the freshmen off the pool table, was Mr. Scott. Mr. Clunie and Mr. Foster held down the second floor positions. The ladies of the dorm deserve a vote of thanks for the work they have done preparing refreshments for various parties, and for all the mending they have done for us.

When we returned to Gould in September, we noticed several changes had been made. The street which formerly ran in front of the dorm had been graded over, and a new walk curved from the dorm to the girls' gym. In the basement we found that the old "butt" room had been turned into quarters for eight of the ten veterans who were taking refresher courses.

Among the high points of the year for certain members of the second floor was the "lost weekend" of November 16. The trial of Holden Hall vs. Robert Madeiros, alias "Cuba," will long be remembered, - - especially by the prosecution. Originally there were twenty-five charges against the defendant. These were, however, condensed to three. After a long debate, the jury acquitted "Cuba," and the prosecution took a cold shower. The Christmas party, at which many budding poets were doubtlessly unveiled, Winter Carnival, and the Boys' Dorm Party, featuring a penny arcade and a one-act play, were other memorable occasions.

The infirmary wing of the first floor was a little crowded for a while during the fall, as the forerunners of a threatened measles and mumps epidemic began arriving at Mrs. Waterhouse's door.

Now, let us take a brief tour of the dorm, examining the fifty-seven varieties of student making this their home base.

The veterans, a welcome addition to dorm life, include Bob Awde, who commuted for a while in his '46 Olds - - lucky guy; Dick Briggs, Massachusetts 440 champ and a great addition to our cross-country and track teams; Walter Conners, an able assistant football coach; Bob Joy, with his mellow sax and ever-present smile; Ted Logan, providing fast transportation when needed; Frank McGlynn, another aid to our football team; Charles Pudvah, from Vermont; and Richmond Thurber, the shortest. Dave, "Slim," Gilmour and Bob Higgins room in town, but spend much of their time with the other vets. In the apartment by the dorm office rooms John Blackadar, the only vet who is not a post graduate.

This year another Bennett from Wilson's Mills, Rex, appeared, accompanied by silent Warren Olson. Both soon proved themselves true sons of that town by their skill on the pool table.

Jimmy Gordon was the only one who chose life in the infirmary. Games of "cops and robbers" among the residents of the first floor - - including Uno Hertell, "Fritz" Norton, Bob Hamilton, Dick Marshall, Guy Emery, Bob Adams, John Philbrick, Bob Hill, Dick Klain, and Larry Stinchfield - - were the rage for a while, but Mr. Scott soon restored law and order. Games of tag, on hands and knees and in the dark, were the next amusement devised.

Most of the freshman boys saw a brief period of compulsory service as shine-boys on the second floor in the fall. This resulted in certain upper classmen taking over the freshman jobs of sweeping corridors and cleaning the pool room for a while - - didn't it Powers?

Two of the most popular rooms on the second floor were George Cole's and Wayne Allen's and Louis Wood's and Lee Dymen's. Both have "vics," but the latter has the added attraction of Lee's own renditions on the trombone. Across from Wayne and George, room Jack Hawley and Russ Cram, those "Lovell Boys." Next to Wayne we find Sterling Pierce, formerly known as "Sadness." Between Pierce and Bob Parsons, that modest fellow who's so popular with the girls, we find Dave Patrick assisted by Don Powers extolling the merits of Vermont - - especially Burlington.

Journeying down "Allen's Alley" we first come to the abode of Robert Judkins, the dorm pants-presser. His roommate, "Rip" Howland, we find asleep, as usual.

Next to them it's "Big Deal" Bayles and "T-Zone Dave" Farrington. Across the hall we are greeted by "Tie up your dory; come aboard; and we'll tell sea stories!" It's Dick Shields, the man from the coast! Tim Terry and Mark Rines, enthusiastic patrons of calling hours and the Tuesday and Friday night dances, live in the next two rooms. Beyond Mark's room we find Jimmy Stafford and "Chuck" Boutot, those two well-dressed gentlemen. Entering the last room on the hall, we are greeted by Bert Fernald, alias "Shaky," who cautions us to be quiet, for his roommate, Larry Clement, is engrossed in a picture of Connie.

Leaving this pleasant seance, we travel back up the hall to the home of the sugared doughnut - - "Gilesburg and Coleslaw" - - whose proprietors, Stan Cole and "Rocky" Giles, advertise a free hole with every doughnut. Beyond Dymen's room we find "Cuba" engrossed in "Amazing Stories Magazine." Next door we find Dick Little carrying on in his usual warfare with "Honest John" Libby of Kennebunk and Millard Moors, a "fugitive" from Old Town, who room across the hall. Next to them and across from Powers, rooms Dick "Minnieball," Day, staunch supporter of Kennebunk and the U. S. Marines. Across from Mr. Foster's apartment rooms Herby Hunt, from Cranston, Rhode Island, home of you-know-what. In the corner of the dorm we find Lloyd Dickson and Harlan, "Junior," Stearns. Lloyd spent much of the fall "vacationing" in the hospital, but now he is back to help "Junior" tidy up the room for the stiff Saturday morning inspections, so life is quiet again in this end of the hall.

These fifty-seven varieties made up life in Holden Hall. Twenty-nine of them will be leaving for good. May the rest of them and those who come next year carry on the traditions!

Student Council

The Gould Academy Student Council was started in May, 1945. For two years it has been increasingly influencing school life, although it is still a young organization. With the recommendations of the coaches, the Council passes final decisions on the eligibility for athletic letters of the students who participate in varsity sports. The group sponsors the annual Christmas Formal, and sells tickets at various games. The Council also directs occasional entertainments in morning assembly. It regulates traffic between classes, and promotes order and neatness in the study hall through a series of inspections.

The officers of the Student Council for the school year 1946-1947 were as follows: Russell Cram, President; Louis Wood, Vice-President; Irene Wight, Secretary; and Marvin Kendall, Treasurer.

The following committees were also elected by the school to serve on the Council: the School Publicity Committee, Amy Penner and Isabel Bennett; Building Committee, Richard Day and Jack Libby; Public Relations Committee, Martha Waterhouse and Herbert Hunt; Assembly Committee, Janice Bowman and James Browne; and the Finance Committee, Frances Vinton and Robert Judkins. The School Publicity Committee sees to posters for the dances and games; the Building Committee promotes orderly passage between classes; the Public Relations Committee shows visitors around the school; the Assembly Committee has charge of the various programs which are presented in morning assembly; and the Finance Committee sells tickets at the various athletic events.

Although the Student Council is only two years old, it has steadily gained power. Plans have already been made for the future when the Council will have even greater power than before. This worthwhile organization has proven its value in the work it has done, and it will continue to do its job well.

Varsity Glee Club

Last Year

Three festivals were attended late last spring after the 1946 Herald had gone to press. The first of these was the New England Music Festival at New Britain, Connecticut, a group of eight attending to represent Gould. Entering the chorus were Priscilla Goggin, Barbara Galbraith, Judith Cole, and Roy Lurvey; Eugene Van and Donald Brooks played in the band; and Myra Stickney was in the orchestra.

Later the Varsity Glee Club, Boys Glee Club, Priscilla Goggin, Marie White, Ted Emery, and Roy Lurvey were auditioned at the Western Maine Music Festival at Sanford. All received the coveted A rating.

At the Maine Federation of Music

Club's Junior Day, held in Portland, the male quartet sang. This foursome was composed of Roy Lurvey, Francis Bean, Ted Emery and Dexter Stowell. They also sang some of their numbers over WCSH on a program composed of participants in the festival.

Before attending the Western Maine Music Festival, the orchestra and glee clubs gave a concert, featuring the numbers which the latter would present at the festival. The Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, Varsity Glee Club and orchestra took part in the Commencement Day program, also.

Musical Groups at Gould

Led by the baton of drum major Betsy Grandin, and accompanied by twirlers

Joyce Chipman, Nina Pierce, and Mary Scott, the band has played at basketball games and football games both at Gould and away. It has furnished music for Memorial Day observances in Bethel and Lockes Mills, and played for the 4-H Achievement Day in South Paris, leading a parade in the morning and playing for the afternoon program. This year the band had twenty-five members.

With about twenty members, the orchestra has furnished music for the three one-act plays and other stage productions. Miss Collins, an honorary member, has added a great deal to this organization.

The glee clubs had a large membership this year. The Girls Glee Club and the male quartet, Roy Lurvey, Robert Joy, Dick Ireland, and Gene Van, sang at the teachers convention at Gould in October. Combined, the glee clubs presented a cantata, The Child Jesus, at Christmas time.

This year the William Rogers Chapman Club has represented a wide variety of instrumental as well as vocal talent. It has given one concert, and will give another the evening of Baccalaureate Sunday. This concert, while it will include the whole club, will feature the senior members. The roll consisted of 25 members, including honorary members Miss Collins and Miss Hinckley.

This Year

On March 19 a group left Gould to again represent the school at the New England Music Festival - - this year at Brattleboro, Vermont. Barbara Galbraith, Nancy Barnard, Geraldine Linnell, Roy Lurvey, and Gene Van were in the chorus. Donald Lord played in the band; and Myra Stickney was in the orchestra.

At the Western Maine Music Festival held in Lewiston on May 17, all three glee clubs from Gould entered the competition. The band also attended to lead our unit in the parade. Some individual members entered the auditions.

For the first time at Gould, awards in music, similar to athletic awards, were made in the spring. These awards were made on a point basis.

BLUE AND GOLD STAFF

The Blue and Gold

In its fifth year the Blue and Gold has followed the pattern set in previous years with five printed columns. Nine issues were planned for this year, the first of which came out on October ninth, nineteen hundred and forty-six. Differing slightly from former years, three six-page issues of the Blue and Gold, the Christmas, Carnival, and the Commencement issues, will have been published this year, in addition to the other six four-page issues.

Outstanding Among Us, Opinions Appreciated, Alumni Notes, and A Graduate of Gould, columns originating in other years, were continued in the Blue and Gold this year. Under the Cupola, which replaced the gossip columns two years ago, has also been carried on, although in the larger issues it was divided into three divisions, consisting of the town, Gehring Hall, and Holden Hall. Off the Record, the music column which was incepted last year, was discontinued after the first issue. In the Christmas issue a column called Exchange News was inserted, telling of the various schools with which we exchange publications. A section was added to the three large issues in which contributions, largely consisting of original poetry written by the student readers, were published.

Succeeding its former editors, Robert Golderman, Anne Aldrich, Robert Foster, and Margery Ann Howard, Janice Bowman assumed the editorship of the paper this year, with Larry Clement as Assistant Editor. On the staff this year were the following: Stanley Cole as Sports Editor, Rebecca Philbrick as Alumni and Exchange Editor, William O'Brien as Circulation Manager, Lee Nary as Advertising Manager, and Robert Judkins as Business Manager. The position of faculty advisor to the Blue and Gold was held by Mr.

Thompson as in previous years, always ready to help with ideas and material, and to whom a great deal of the Blue and Gold's success is due.

The Blue and Gold has been a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association of Columbia University for three consecutive years, and has a circulation of approximately four hundred, including alumni, faculty, and trustees, as well as the actual student body of Gould.

Camera Club

With many of the vital photographic supplies now back on the market, the Camera Club is confident that it has completed its best year yet. There has been a marked shortage of film, however.

An abundance of credit must be given to Mr. Gayle A. Foster, the club's faculty advisor, who has spent innumerable hours guiding the club through the intricacies of photography. His many years as a student, instructor, and exhibitor of photography have provided him with a fine background of the subject, which he spares no effort to pass on to the club. He is a former president of the Pictorial Photographers of America and the Greenwich Photographic Society of Connecticut, and is the Maine delegate of the Photographic Society of America.

The Camera Club started this year with a larger group than ever. Some of the vets took a deep interest in the club's activities, and helped out immensely. The officers elected for the year were as follows: President, Lee Dymont; Vice-President, Leland Brown; Secretary, Betsy Grandin; and Treasurer, Larry Clement. The darkroom committee was Larry Clement, Bob Awde, Bob Joy, and Lee Dymont. The officers met frequently to plan a schedule and routine for the meetings and acknowledge the pictorial shows sent to us. This year the club contracted several shows from the PPA, which tended to inspire the club to make better pictures themselves. By arrangement, the club secured the PPA's fifty-print show for the month of May. It is interesting to note that at least two of the pictures made in the Camera Club Darkroom have gained nationwide recognition.

The meetings were held on both Thursdays and Fridays to accommodate those with conflicting schedules. Darkroom procedure, magazines, cameras, films, papers, composition, portraiture, copying, mounting, retouching, contact printing, enlarging, and toning were discussed at the demonstration meetings. A more or less new plan was adopted this year by Mr. Foster for the instruction of those interested. He successfully initiated the theory of individual participation in the making of pictures, rather than merely lectures. From this, a closely-knit system by which the club could conveniently produce campus pictures resulted. In the course of the year the Camera Club has produced approximately two thousand pictures of campus happenings, formals, athletic contests, and the Carnival Weekend. In addition to this the club has contributed many pictures to the Blue and Gold and the Academy Herald. Also, a few of the members have made postcards of the campus itself.

Last year during Commencement Week the Camera Club presented a very fine fifty-print show. Both the show and the darkroom and darkroom procedure gained many favorable comments from the numerous visitors. The club has two elaborately equipped darkrooms in which to work, one in Holden Hall, and one in Hanscom Hall. Most of the club's outstanding work has been done in the Holden Hall darkroom which was completed through the efforts of Mr. Foster in 1943. The Annual Show planned for 1947 promises to be the best and most complete to date. The success of the shows in past years has incited the members to go all out and produce even better results this year.

In view of the goal of producing almost professional prints, the club has obtained a series of lectures and movies to complement the demonstrations given. These aids come from the library of the Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester, New York, and are sent out by the library to camera clubs interested in order to promote photography.

There is certainly a great deal of satisfaction resulting from the efforts of Mr. Foster, the darkroom workers, and Mary Plumer, Lee Nary, and Bert Fernald, the sales representatives of the club.

Science Club

This year the Science Club met on every other Thursday during activity period. In previous years the meetings were held on Monday evenings; the change was made to give out-of-town students who were unable to be at Monday evening meetings a chance to join the club. The change definitely benefited the club, for it had its largest enrollment since it was organized.

The officers elected for the year were as follows: Larry Clement, President; Mark Rines, Vice-President; Lee Dymont, Secretary; Edwin Swain, Treasurer. With the guidance of the club's capable advisor, Mr. Emery, all the members took part in programs for the meetings, keeping something of interest in the display window, and using various laboratory equipment during free club periods.

Some of the programs presented by the members included the making of the astonishing Prince Rupert's drops, interesting movies, and fascinating Christmas cards made by burning certain chemicals. During some club periods groups of members worked on projects. One group worked with the microscope, one worked with various minerals, one did various experiments in the chemistry laboratory, while the fourth learned to use the handy slide-rule.

One of the highlights of the year was the Biennial Science Exhibition at Bates College in Lewiston which the whole club attended on Friday evening, March 15. Interesting movies were shown and many fascinating experiments were performed. One of the latter was a demonstration of the atomic bomb principle. Interesting displays were exhibited by the geology department, mathematics department, and physics, biology and chemistry departments.

The year has proved profitable, indeed, to all members. A great deal of praise is due Mr. Emery for the time and energy he has spent helping the members gain knowledge about the world of science.

Death Scene from 400 Nights

On the Stage

On February eighth the Dramatic Club, winding up a gala Carnival weekend, put on three one-act plays that ran before a near-record audience in the William Bingham gymnasium.

The first presentation of the evening was Miss Personality Plus, the story of a small-town girl who has to cope with the interference of a visiting belle in her love life. The cast were the following: Betty Backus as Linda Baker, the ingenue; Mary Plumer in the title role of Tip Graham, Miss Personality Plus; Larry Clement portraying Hector De Vonde, a two-faced, sophisticated orchestra leader. Supporting them, Martha Waterhouse and Harlan Stearns did an excellent job as Loretta and Claude Baker, Linda's parents; Tim Terry played Johnny Harrow, Linda's boy friend. Laura Belle Bennett cleverly acted the character part of Lizzie Rankin, the spinster gossip.

The second play, Quiet Please, was full of hilarity, furnished by Russell Cram and Stanley Cole, as Jeff and Judd Harris, brothers who succeeded in continuing their long-standing feud despite the interference of Reverend Andrews - - Mark Rines - - and his little group of "good" women, Jessica Fantod, Josie Merkin and Mattie Wiggins, portrayed by Jackie Macfarlane, Janet Palmer and Isabel Bennett. Even the arrival of Catherine Philips, a stranded social worker, acted by Janice Bowman, only succeeded in establishing a shaky and brief truce between the two stubborn old farmers.

The final play, a tragedy, contained some very fine acting by James Stafford and Richard Day. The plot saw an actor who concentrated on the part of Othello so completely that he actually choked to death his leading lady. Four Hundred Nights presented James Stafford as William Morland, the actor; Robert Judkins as Carl Mills, his inexperienced but capable lawyer; Richard Day as Frederick Gray, the veteran prosecuting attorney;

Sally Stowell as Dawn Lee Moreland, the defendants dramatic daughter; Marilyn Judkins and Bert Fernald as Belle and Charley, the court stenographer and clerk; Francis MacRae and Martha Crocker expertly handled the roles of Mrs. Smythe and Mrs. Jones, witnesses.

The little known, but very necessary, workers backstage were the following: stage manager - - Lee Nary; property manager - - Leland Brown; prompter - - Nancy Barnard, make up - - Miss Vose, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Roderick.

The senior class presented You Can't Take It With You on April 18. This comedy was one of the hardest to portray that has ever been presented on the Gould stage, being, in general, the story of a rather eccentric family who live their lives rather for the fun they get out of them than for the good-will of the neighbors.

The cast was as follows:

Pennelope Sycamore
Essie Carmichael

Anne Libbey
Mary Plumer

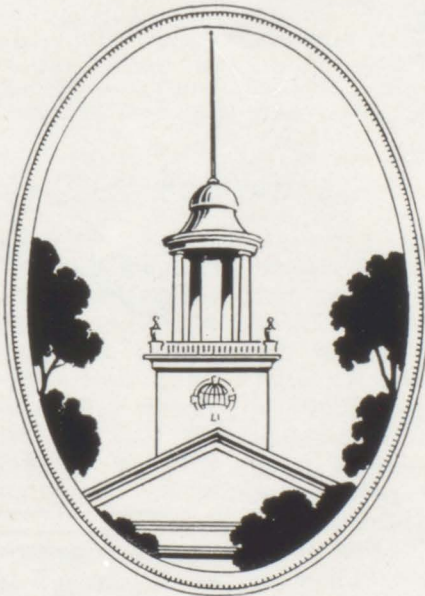

Rheba
Paul Sycamore
Mr. De Pinna
Ed Carmichael
Donald
Martin Vanderhof
Alice Sycamore
Henderson
Tony Kirby
Boris Kolenkhov
Gay Wellington
Mr. Kirby
Mrs. Kirby
G-men

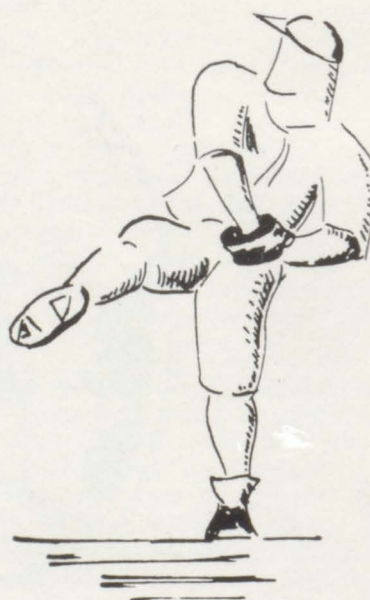

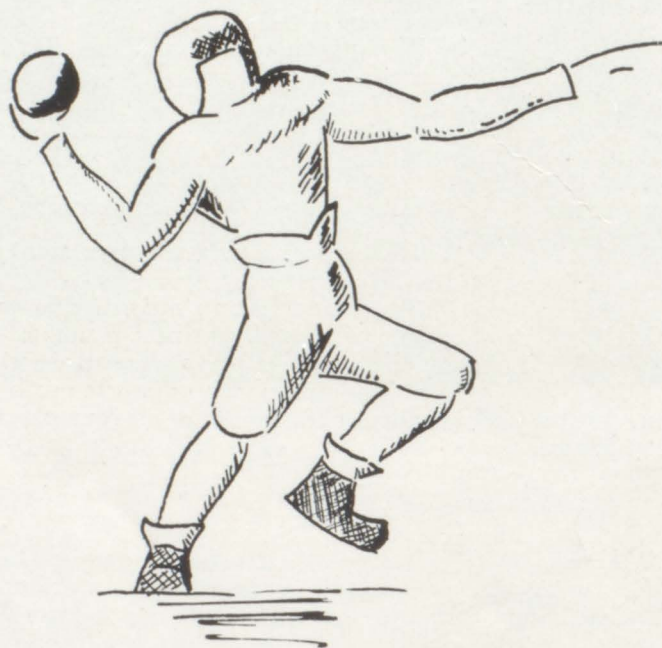

Olga Katrina

Barbara Stearns
Harlan Stearns
Jack Libby
Robert Judkins
John Howland
Stanley Cole
Sally Stowell
Richard Day
James Stafford
Roderick Giles
Isabel Bennett
Lloyd Dickson
Joanna Perkins
Russell Cram
Jack Hawley
George Cole
Barbara Galbraith

The backstage crew were stage manager - - Lee Nary, property managers - - Rebecca Philbrick and Leland Brown, prompter - - Nancy Barnard, business manager - - Irene Wight. The plays were all directed by Mr. Thompson, who deserves much of the credit for the success of all four plays.

Football

Starting with one of the largest squads in Gould's history, Coach Scott and his competent assistant Coaches Roderick and Emery, supplemented by Coach "Pop" Conners, commenced the '46 season in one of the best styles known, a 14-6 victory over Skowhegan. But this was only the beginning, for the following week the Huskies flashed past Kents Hill to a score of 45-0.

The next game was with the Farmington "Greyhounds". It was played at Farmington during one of the most torrid days ever recorded for that time of year; but the Gouldites intercepted four passes, and with the help of fullback Davis, ripped the "Greyhound's" forward wall to pieces. The game ended 20-13, the third straight victory for the Huskies.

The following Saturday, Parent's Day, Gould lost its first and only game to a much heavier Hebron eleven. The game was played in a downpour; but even though the Huskies came through on the short end of a 13-6 score, it was considered the best played game of the season.

Gaining confidence and experience from the Hebron duel, Gould went to South

Paris and came back with a 32-12 victory under their belts, making the fourth straight defeat for the South Paris "Cardinals."

The next two games, with Fryeburg and Mexico respectively, were the closest and seemingly toughest games of the year, the encounter with Fryeburg ending in a 6-6 tie. Mexico, the other aggressor, lost the game in the last period because of a fifteen yard pass thrown by John Blackadar to Don Powers. Bob Parsons, as always, kicked the extra point, making the score 7-0.

On the following week end the Gould team ran roughshod, 35-0, over Berlin High on the Alumni Field. The Huskies ran up twelve first downs to Berlin's four, and scored three times by air, Blackadar to Davis forming the onslaught. Parsons again showed his skill by placing 5 out of 5 extra points through the uprights.

Thus the team closed the season with six wins, a tie, and a loss. It is hoped that next year, with Dave Bennett as captain, the grid season of '47 will continue to be just as successful, even though men such as Captain Don Walker, Jack Libby, Dave Patrick, Dick Day, Rocky Giles, Bob Parsons, John Blackadar, Russ Cram, and Wayne Allen will have graduated. The future looks good, however, for most of the line and backfield will return next fall forming a large nucleus around which next year's team can easily be built.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM, 1946

Cross Country

Last fall the cross-country team again brought out its tennis shoes and started pounding over the two and a half mile course. This was the second cross-country team in Gould's history. It was handicapped at first with the absence of those who had graduated last year; but their places were soon filled by old members and capable new students, however. Remaining from last year were Captain Clement, Foster, Hertell, Jordan, and Blake, while the rest of the team was comprised of Briggs, Massachusetts's 440 champ, Stinchfield, Van, Farrington, Allen, Varney, and Dickson.

The first meet at Hebron Academy was held on October 2. The Gould team ran a good race, but lost to the stronger Hebron team by two points, the score being Gould 29, Hebron 27.

The second meet was with Portland High on the home course. Due to a much more experienced team, and Richardson, the Portland track star, the Gould team was badly beaten by a 17-47 score. The third meet at Fryeburg Academy on October 16 was also a defeat for the Gould team. The opposing team led the Gouldites over a tricky course, under fences, through plowed fields, and up a sandy hill, to a 19-37 victory.

The next week the team went under a rigid training routine. They gained confidence in themselves and were ready for the kill when the fourth meet, with Deering High, came around on October 23. On their home course again the Husky team flashed by the team that had defeated them a year before with a glaring 22-37 score.

The fifth meet, again with Hebron

Academy, was held at Gould on October 30. Again the Gould team flashed ahead to victory, showing their true form by trouncing the Hebron runners badly with a score of 18-37.

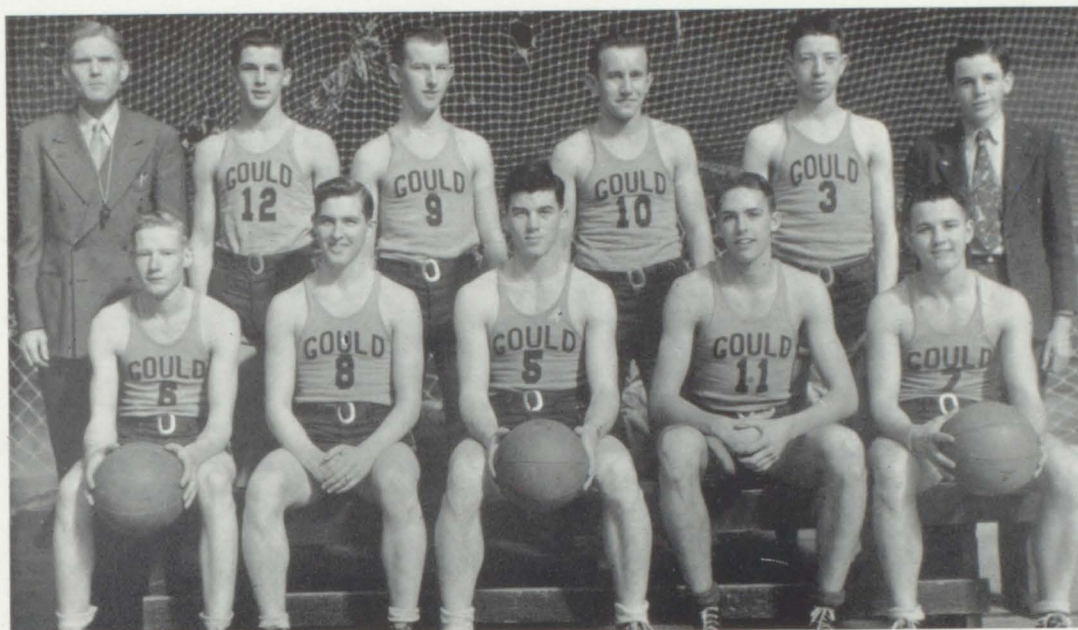

Another meet, with Phillips High, was scheduled for November 6, but was cancelled at the last moment. The team was determined to take this last meet, and was exceedingly disappointed when informed of the meet's cancellation.

Briggs, Van, Foster, Dickson, Judkins,

Stearns, and Captain Clement will graduate this June; but with 1947 Captain Stinchfield, Jordan, Hertell, Farrington, Varney, Noyes, Olsen, Norton and Cole to build the team on, a successful season is looked forward to next year. Credit for the team's first two successful years is due to its competent and friendly coach, Mr. Clunie. Thanks must also be given to manager John Howland and assistant manager Jim Hickox.

LARRY CLEMENT '47

BASKETBALL TEAM, 1947

Basketball

The outlook for the 1946-1947 season was not very bright, with only two of last year's first team returning; however, Coach Anderson molded together a smooth working quintet, bringing up Wood, Foster, and Libby from last year's J. V. team to take over the vacant positions left by Norwood, Stone, and Marshall. Parsons, Bennett, Hamilton, and Young made up the rest of the varsity team. The team proved that steady practice under "Coach's" guiding hand paid off when they defeated a strong, more experienced Gorham, New Hampshire, team by a convincing margin of 43-36 in the season's opener.

Unfortunately, Gould lost two close games in the early part of the season to Fryeburg Academy and Gorham, New Hampshire, but then settled down to win all but one of their remaining regularly scheduled games. Reaching their peak on January 31, they defeated a strong favored Norway team by a 68-31 margin.

Holding a 12-3 win-loss record, the Blue and Gold quintet journeyed to Norway to compete in the Oxford County Tournament. They defeated a determined Fryeburg five on the first night by a score of 27-23, advancing to the semi-finals. Gould then defeated Norway in a close, hard-fought game by a score of 39-34. In the finals, however, the Huskies fell apart and were dismally beaten by South Paris, a team which they had beaten twice in the course of the regular season.

After this disappointing outcome, there was much speculation by all concerned as to whether Gould would go to the Western Maine Tournament at Lewiston. Due to their impressive season's record, however, the Huskies were picked as one of the eight teams to play in the Lewiston Armory.

In the first game the Blue and Gold came from behind to defeat a determined Thomaston team by the score of 33-26, though at the close of the first quarter Gould was behind 12-3. Much credit should be given to both Captain Allen and Louis Wood for their brilliant playing throughout the entire game. Without Allen's shooting and Wood's fine backboard play, the Huskies' season would have ended with this game. In the second game against a highly favored Berwick Academy team, the Huskies really came through, soundly trouncing the Berwick team by a score of 51-36, again putting them in the finals.

The team took the floor on Saturday night with a large part of the student body cheering them on. This time they were not to be denied, as they completely outplayed the St. Ignatius team from Sanford, defeating them by the close score of 47-44, and winning the Western Maine Class "B" Championship. Much credit should be given to the cheerleaders and the student body who showed some fine school spirit.

The team ended the season in a close, hard-fought game with Patten Academy, which they lost by a score of 36-33 score. The game, for the State Championship, was close all the way with the Huskies holding the edge until the dying minutes of the last quarter, when Patten forged ahead to provide the winning margin.

Winter Sports

Janice Bowman was elected President of the Gould Outing Club, Ruth Judkins, Vice President and Betsy Norton, Secretary-Treasurer, and Ted Logan was elected manager of the ski team.

Captain Dick Ireland, Herbie Hunt, Bob Croteau, Sterling Pierce, Bob Adams and Edwin Swain from last year's team, joined by Don Powers, Dick Marshall, Gene Van, and Alfred Norton, formed this year's ski team. Hard work on the newly fallen snow in the early part of the new year soon put them in top condition for the many meets that Coach Myers and Mr. Ireland had arranged.

The first meet of the season was at Lyndon, Vermont, where the team met Spaulding, Burlington, St. Johnsbury and Lyndon, which were considered some of Vermont's most outstanding teams. The slalom was captured by Ireland with Hunt placing fourth for Gould. High places taken by Lyndon resulted in a five point lead over Gould in this event. The downhill which followed was also won by Ireland with Hunt and Powers taking the next two places for Gould with a fourth and seventh respectively. The cross country, won by Croteau, with Ireland and Powers taking 4th and 5th places, added much to our score, but failed to secure the necessary points for a Gould victory. The team made a very good showing, however, by placing second.

The first afternoon meet was with Stephens High of Rumford, when, on January 29, the team traveled to Rumford. In the cross country Ireland managed to emerge victorious, with Croteau taking second. The downhill was an extremely short course, Ireland finishing in 7.03 seconds to win this event. Hunt captured 3rd place.

The remainder of the meet was held at Gould on the following Wednesday. In the slalom Powers made two good runs and emerged with first place, Ireland and Pierce taking third and fourth places for Gould. Dick Ireland made two excellent jumps to win the title for the day. Excellent support from Croteau and Powers made the event an unexpected Gould victory. The totals indicated another Gould win, Rumford trailing by twelve points.

On February first the Gould team traveled to Bridgton, where they were entered in the Southwestern Maine Slalom and Downhill Championships. Led by Dick Ireland, and ably supported by Don Powers and Bob Adams, the team swept to a complete victory by edging out Fryeburg, Deering, Norway, and Portland.

The Gould Winter Carnival was planned so that the state meet could be held here on that week end. The meet, scheduled for February 14-15, was postponed due to generally poor skiing conditions, but a heavy blanket of snow arrived on Friday, and saved the day for the ski enthusiasts. The entire state was well represented with teams entered from Andover, Lewiston, Edward Little, Portland, Rumford, South Paris, Norway and Gould.

The first event held on Saturday was slalom. Despite the intermittent rains and snow squalls, Dick Ireland managed to finish with a time of 44.8 seconds, to win the race. In the downhill, Ireland swept to another victory.

The jumping in the early afternoon was very spectacular; jumps of over one-hundred feet were accomplished. Dick Ireland emerged from this stiff competition with two standing jumps of 96 and 97 feet to win the event, but lack of support from the remainder of the team put Gould in second place.

At the end of this thrilling event, the teams moved to the athletic field, where the cross-country was to start. By this time, however, darkness had already begun to set in. The Lewiston team did not enter this event, but the remaining seven teams stayed to grope their way around the course. Powers and Croteau were the two leading men for Gould placing seventh and fourteenth respectively. The cross-country race ended the skiing events for the day with Andover winning the state title while Edward Little and Gould trailed with close second and third places.

These three teams, by their top three scores in the state meet and also by the Maine Principal's Association's choice, were eligible to enter the New England Interscholastic Ski Championship at Lyndon, Vermont, the following weekend. Twelve teams, representing almost all the states in New England were entered in this meet. Dick Ireland, who held the Maine state downhill and slalom titles, was forced to surrender the New England downhill title to Bill Beck, star of South Kingstown, Rhode Island. Dick proved himself very capable of maintaining his high standing in the slalom, however, as he captured first place.

After two days of successful skiing, the Lyndon team emerged with the New England Championship, while Hanover, New Hampshire, trailed by only three points, and Andover, Maine, followed with third place. The Gould team managed to secure sixth place.

The second of the "split meets" was with Hebron Academy. The slalom and downhill were held at Swan's Corner, with Dick Ireland taking first place in both events. The remainder of the team gave him ample support to secure a large margin over the opposing team in these two events. The cross-country and jumping were held at Hebron two weeks later. Dick Ireland won the cross country with Bob Adams and Don Powers following close behind. In the jumping, Don Powers came into the lime-light, and captured the event with two leaps of fifty-one feet. Ireland and Croteau offered sufficient support to make an easy victory in this event, as well as in the entire meet.

The last meet of the season was a five-way meet at Bradford, Vermont, in which we entered only junior varsity members. Bradford, St. Johnsbury, Spaulding and White River Junction entered their varsity teams making the meet one sided, but the Gould representatives, Adams, Swain, Bennett, and Marshall, managed to secure fourth place.

Ireland, Powers, Hunt, Adams, Swain and Marshall comprise the nucleus of next year's team. Already the team is planning next year's schedule, the highlight of the season being the New England Interscholastic Championship which is to be held at Gould.

Baseball

Under the able leadership of Coach George Bowhay in his initial year as baseball coach, the 1946 Gould Baseball team finished a very successful season, winding up in a three-way tie with South Paris and Fryeburg for the Oxford County League Championship.

Although the 1946 candidates were somewhat hampered at the beginning of the season by a late snow storm, practice was begun in the spacious field house while the unwelcome winds howled outside. From a group of 27 men, which included seven lettermen of previous years, Coach Bowhay and his enthusiastic assistant, Nick Armato, extracted and molded a team worthy of Gould Academy's esteem.

Coach Bowhay stressed heads-up baseball and drilled on team work. A practice game was arranged with Rumford; and after being snowed out once, the game was finally played. It was an entirely impromptu occasion with Rumford edging Gould in the last few innings.

The team, built around competent Captain Dorion, began its regular schedule on April 25 with a trip to South Paris. The Huskies were finally beaten by a strong Cardinal nine 7-6. The tussle was close all the way, but Wouri the Paris hurler, humbled Gould with but nine hits. Parsons and Dorion contributed three hits apiece in this encounter, while Young pitched the entire game for Gould.

The second campaign of the year ended with better results than the first. Gould won over Norway in a game which was called on account of rain in the sixth inning. Norwood going the route for the Gouldites, the final score was 8-7.

In their third game Gould revenged their previous defeat to South Paris by winning 6-3, Young hurling. The Gould win was aided by a home run by Wight in the early innings. Gould was never in serious trouble, and won the game on the early lead which they collected.

In another game postponed by rain, Gould took Mexico by the score of 6-4. The game was close all the way, Gould winning in the first half of the fifth with a single by Norwood and a home run by Wood. Wight and Parsons also banged out long hits in the encounter.

With three victories under their belts, Gould entertained Fryeburg, whom they defeated 6-5 in a thrilling contest that saw Cram of Fryeburg pitch four-hit ball. However, a Gould rally in the last of the eighth clinched the game and gave Gould a hope for the Oxford County League Championship.

In an interstate game with Gorham, New Hampshire, the Huskies eked out a 4-3 ball game. Captain Dorion slammed out a first inning homer to aid the Gould cause; Young and Norwood shared the pitching chores.

Journeying to Norway next, Gould waged a neck and neck battle, and at the end of nine innings the score was tied five to five. But a 10th inning rally plucked the victory from the scrappy Norway team 11-5. The game was a hitting spree and both pitchers were hit heavily along the route, Stone and Smith each connecting for four hits apiece.

With Young on the mound, Gould waged a close return battle with Gorham. The game was won in the last of the ninth by timely hitting and heads-up baseball. Norwood singled, then was sacrificed to second by a Cole bunt, and then was driven home by a sharp single to right by Eddie Dorion. The score of the game was 2-1.

Having won 6 straight, Gould took on Fryeburg in a game which would mean the difference between the League Championship if won, and a three way tie if lost. The game was carried on in a threatening rain storm and was a heart-breaker to lose. Gould didn't seem to play the ball of which they were capable. Fryeburg finally won, despite a late Gould rally in the ninth when Dorion's sharp liner was caught deep in right field.

Due to the prevailing weather conditions, the Mexico game on June 1st and the Alumni game on June 8th were cancelled.

The starting line-up and batting order for the most part of the games was as follows: Norwood, ss; Cole, cf; Wight, lf; Dorion, c; Parsons, 2b; Wood, 3b; Smith, rf; Cram, lf; Young, p.

The J. V. Team, under Assistant Coach Nich Armato, played two games with Woodstock. They were beaten both times.

The 1946 record:

Gould	7	South Paris	8
Gould	8	Norway	7
Gould	6	South Paris	3
Gould	6	Mexico	4
Gould	6	Fryeburg	5
Gould	4	Gorham	1
Gould	11	Norway	5
Gould	2	Gorham	1
Gould	5	Fryeburg	8

The returning lettermen from last year's baseball nine are the following; Captain Louis Wood, Robert Parsons, Russ Cram, Ted Young, Stan Cole, and Sterling Pierce. With these men as a foundation for the team, along with newcomers, the 1947 season should promise plenty of wins. Much of the credit for Gould's fine baseball team is due to Coach George Bowhay.

Track

State Championship Team

The team of '46 had several men from the year before as a foundation. They were as follows: Captain Bill Bowman, Martin Bovey, Dan Bennett, Donald Walker, Harlan Blake, John Brown, Andy Sargent, Bill Hastings, Rocky Giles, and Jack Marshall. Many new recruits were added to make up one of the best track teams in the state.

With the exception of the first meet with Lewiston and Deering, all encounters were successful. This meet was an excellent example of the strength of the team, losing by only half a point. The scoring by Gould boys was as follows: Bowman-first in the mile and 880 yards; Boveyfirst in the discus, second in the broad jump; Davis-first in the high jump, second in the pole vault; Giles-second in the 440 yards, third in the 220 yards; Lord-second in the broad jump and 330 yards; Lucas-second in the mile; Walker, Greenleaf, Melville, and Sargent took third places. The final score was Lewiston 54½ points, Gould 54 points, and Deering 23½ points.

The second meet, with Farmington, which we won decisively, was held here also. The two highest scorers were Bovey with 14 points and Davis with 13 points. The results of the meet were as follows: Bovey-first in the discus and broad jump, second in the 100 yards, third in the javelin; Davis-first in the javelin and high jump, second in low hurdles; Captain Bowman-first in the mile, second in the 880 yards; Marshall-first in the 880 yards; Giles-first in the 440 yards; Brown-first in the 100 yards; Sargent tied for first in the pole vault and tied for third in the high jump; Lucas-second in the mile, third in the 880 yards; Blake-tied for first in the pole vault; Hastings-third in the shot put. The final score was Gould 68 4/5 points and Farmington 39 1/5 points.

Weather delayed the Rumford meet; but it was finally held at Rumford and ended in another victory for the Gould track team, the score being 63 to 36. Gould took eight of the 11 first places. Bovey scored 18 points and Davis 15. The scoring by Gould was as follows: Bovey-first in the 220 yards, broad jump, and discus, second in the 100 yards; Davis-first in the high jump and javelin, second in the broad jump, third in the discus and shot put; Captain Bowman-first in the mile and 880 yards; Lucas-second in the mile and 880 yards; Blake-first in the pole vault; Hastings-second in the shot put, third in the javelin; Giles-second in the 440 yards; Sargent-third in the high jump; Walker-third in the 880 yards.

A junior varsity meet was then held for the "non-letter" men of Gould and Mexico. This meet was won by the Gould J. V.'s, and gave the boys that had never been in a track meet some experience.

The last meet, excepting the state meet, was with Kents Hill, in which the Huskies' opponent was badly defeated by 55 points. The score was Gould 77 points and Kents Hill 22 points. Davis carried away 21 points, and Bovey rated 16 more. The results were as follows: Davis-first in the broad jump, 120 yard low hurdles, and high jump, second in the discus and shot put; Bovey-first in the discus and 100 yards, second in the broad jump and 220 yards; Brown-first in the 220 yards, second in the 100 yards; Lucas-first in the 880 yards, second in the mile; Giles-first in the 440 yards, third in the 880 yards; Captain Bowman-first in the mile; Hastings-second in the javelin, third in the shot put; Ireland-second in the 120 yard low hurdles; Lord-second in the 440 yards, third in the broad jump; Sargent-third in the high jump; Greenleaf-third in the 120 yard low hurdles.

After these victories, the Gould team was ready to tackle the State Meet, winning by a safe margin in the Class B competition. The teams were at a disadvantage because of slippery mud and steady rain. In this meet three firsts were taken. The results by Gould were as follows: Bovey-first in the broad jump and discus; Captain Bowman-first in the mile and second in the 880 yards; Lucas-second in the mile and third in the 880 yards; Davis-second in the high jump, third in the 200 yard low hurdles and discus; Giles-second in the 440 yards; Hastings-third in the shot put; Ireland-third in the 120 low hurdles.

This meet wound up a very successful season for the Gould boys, winning the championship cup held the year before by Farmington. The five highest scorers for the season were as follows: first, Bovey with 65 points; second, Davis with 62 points; third, Captain Bowman with 41 points; fourth, Lucas with 26 points; fifth, Giles with 22 points.

Six lettermen were left for the 1947 team to build on: Captain John Brown, Jerry Davis, Richard Melville, Rocky Giles, Don Walker, and Harlan Blake. The holder of the cup has to be a state champion for three successive years before it may keep it permanently. Therefore, the track team of 1947 will do its best to keep the cup in the Gould trophy case.

All due credit for the brilliant success of the team is given to Coach "Joe" Roderrick and his efficient assistants, Mr. Scott and Hollie Sturgis.

Boys' Physical Education

September 15—Today we assembled for the first time to purchase gym suits and rent lockers; a lot of us went into debt.

September 17—We got our first workout; and what a workout! Joe says that he is going to be easier on us this year because he will not be preparing so many boys for the army, but I wish he would look up easier in the dictionary.

September 26—Had a good time today! We had a free period in which we did no exercises but played touch football all period, because Joe was working with the veterans. The freshmen and sophomores had their posture pictures taken today. Every other day for those who need it in the freshman and sophomore classes, there are "corrective", exercises to correct some posture defect. On the remaining days of the week the freshmen and sophomores have regular classes in which Joe plans to stress the teaching of sports fundamentals, such as those in basketball and track. This early training will help a lot towards winning teams in the future.

October 28—Today we gave an exhibition showing how our physical education program worked for the benefit of the county teachers. The freshmen demonstrated tumbling, the sophomores relay races and the Ranger exercises, the juniors the grass drill and pyramids, and the senior class combatives, regular exercises, and tramp-o-line acrobatics.

October 30—At last we get a rest. We have just started on a series of tests, including chest capacity, arm, leg, back and shoulder tests. These tests are compared with an average for your weight, age, and height to determine whether you are a "ninety-seven pound weakling" or a "Charles Atlas."

November 18—We are now taking our exercises in the field house, but no volleyball for today. Joe is trying to get us into shape to take another series of tests. This set is repeated every four weeks to show how much progress we are making. Evidently some progress is made because the results are better practically every time, although we don't feel very energetic after running eleven laps on the indoor track.

November 25—Five laps in two and a quarter minutes, and I am just about ready to drop! Tomorrow we do sit-ups and push-ups, the next day the "L" test and pull-ups, and the next day we end it all for four weeks with the standing broad jump and dips.

January 30—The whole period was devoted to learning the fundamentals of marching. Joe is teaching us these for some of the fellows will be going into maritime school or the army, and Joe wants them to know a little about it beforehand.

February 14—"Stinker! Stinker!" To-day we punished a shower-shirker. If somebody doesn't take a shower after class, he is called "Stinker," and put through the hot oven.

May 9—Spent the period playing softball.

May 30—Last day of physical education. We turned in our locker keys and lugged our belongings home. Most of us will be coming back next fall, but some of us will no longer be enjoying, whether we thought so or not at the time, those daily sessions under the guidance of our popular instructor, Joe Rodrick.

Front row: Isabel Bennett; Rebecca Philbrick; Joyce Chipman; Barbara Galbraith; Carol Swan; Connie Coolidge; Lee Nary; Jackie Macfarlane; Dorothy Judkins; Joyce Cummings.

Girls' Physical Education

Highlighting the girls' physical education was the annual gym meet held last spring. Under the supervision of Miss Newman, the girls showed their ability in gymnastics and apparatus. Gymnastics and the class songs were competitive among the four classes, and the seniors won the honors.

Warm weather then arrived in Bethel, and the girls took no time in getting out of doors to play softball. At the same time the tennis tournament was posted for those who were taking advanced tennis.

This fall Miss Stallwood ably took over Miss Newman's work, and field hockey was taken up with much vigor. As the hockey balls were dribbled and driven about the field, novices and experts were making use of the bow and arrow nearby.

The seniors won the archery tournament, while the juniors were victorious in hockey.

When Bethel's chilly weather drove these enthusiasts indoors, basketball was started. The junior class chalked up another victory when they won the basketball class championship.

Winter descended upon Bethel, although there was no snow until after Christmas vacation, and the ski enthusiasts brought out their equipment. The rain and warm days in early 1947 did not spoil all the fun, however, for ski classes were formed, and skiers were instructed in everything from the snow plow to slalom by Mr. Myers and Miss Stallwood.

Badminton was run differently from the past years. Instead of a singles tournament in each class, there was a doubles tournament, with no distinction in the classes; also there was a losers' tournament.

A Modern Dance Club was formed soon after Christmas vacation, and the girls in this club performed in the gym meet.

The Girls' Athletic Council, composed of officers, sports managers, and class representatives, acted as a stimulus to girls interested in sports; this organization also sponsored a Funny Paper Party this fall.

Probably many wonder what girls' physical education has meant. Gould has been able to compare its physical fitness with other school averages. To some individuals gym classes have given skill, and have brought out new physical abilities. Also the girls have learned the necessity of cooperation and good sportsmanship.
